PRES. ROOSEVELT RETURNED; GOOD MAJORITY

The Moderator's Message

RT. REV. A. S. TUTTLE, D. D.
MODERATOR of UNITED CHURCH in CANADA

THE FOUR GREAT TASKS OF THE CHURCH

In response to an instruction of General Council I am sending a message to the Church.

In briefest outline four things constitute our immediate tasks.

First, the Church with greater earnestness than ever must issue its call to distraught souls. We should speak once more with authority, not with the authority that is official and based upon anything that is external, but an authority which is inward and spiritual. We should preach for a decision, we should not hesitate to ask men and women, young and old, to enlist in the service of Christ in whose service alone they will find perfect liberty, security and peace.

Second, while resisting with all our power as conscience directs the evil thing that has lifted its head in Europe and which threatens to destroy the foundations of modern civilization we must at the same time condemn all hate and bitterness and seek to cultivate a spirit of love and good will among all men.

Third, we must begin now to prepare for a new and better world when this holocaust is over. It is inconceivable that we should be content to go on with the same degree of inequality as exists in he present order of things. We of the Church should not wait for others. We ourselves should point the way toward the new order in which righteousness shall prevail.

Fourth, we must begin now to create an atmosphere favourable to peace with justice to all concerned, a permanent peace based upon the law of Christ, the strong bearing the burdens of the weak. We must endeavour to create a sentiment in which strong nations, including our own, will be prepared to surrender, if necessary, some elements of sovereignty and certain economics privileges in order to create not only a federated Europe but a federated world in which there will be a freer access to raw materials and the markets of the world and thus help to destroy the seeds of future wars.

The Inner Fellowship—

In the name of our Lord and Master whose we are and whom we serve, let us now, with true repentance and humility, turn our thought inwardly. This is not to suggest an escape from the world's sorrows and struggles; not a refusal to grapple with difficult problems; not a safe and secure retreat while the world outside goes groping on in uncertainty and confusion toward what seems to be chaos and darkness; not that, but a primary and essential preparation for going forth with a sense of victory to do valiantly in the name of Christ.

Causes of War in Hearts of Men—

We say a primary and essential preparation because of the necessary relation between the inner and the outer life of man. If some clever physician could strike his finger on the spot and diagnose the sickness of our time he would, like Christ, find that the open sore of the world so apparent to all is due to some hidden malady of mind and heart. Wars and fightings without have their root cause in wars and fightings within. Of course there are other causes of an economic, racial and national nature, but the deeper causes are in the hearts of men. The conflicts and cleavages in the world outside reflect the presence of disturbances and disunion in the depths of the inner life of mankind. When life goes to pieces inside, life goes to pieces outside, and the deeper, darker tragedies are those enacted within human breast.

Inner Strength Overcomes Fear—

Amid the stress and change of things in the world outside we need to turn aside in penitence and prayer; we need to breathe another air; to seek a higher, clearer altitude; to live for awhile in an "ampler ether"; we should find time to acquaint ourselves with God and be at peace. We must recover the lost art of meditation. we need to still the tumultuous voices without and hear what God the Lord will speak. This inner fellowship with Christ will fortify our spirits; it will dissipate fear and give us courage to meet whatever comes.

Romance Of A Goal—

It is claimed that one of the causes of the unbounded enthusiasm and sacrificial spirit of the young communists of adecade ago was a conviction that there was a power, or in their own terminology, "a process of history," some great drift or movement of the universe, something like Bergson's Elan Vital, moving to a goal. Lenin was the incarnation of this power, the channel through which it received its fullest expression in history. Every young communist who devoted himself to the ideal might also become a channel for giving expression to this unseen power to the world and thus augment the process of history toward its desired goal. It is a tremendous bait to young people who, under a purely mechanical view of the universe, felt themselves helpless playthings caught in a soulless machine, now to feel that their lives are meaningful and significant in co-operation with others in a world in movement

River of Life—

But that conception is not to be compared with what the Christian faith has to offer. Christ had all that but infinitely more. For Him there was indeed a process of history but it was no blind, impersonal power. It was the very life and love and power of God issuing from Himself in an unbroken stream, a stream that goes out into all the world and, like the river that Ezekiel saw in a vision, "everything liveth whither the river cometh"

Life Overflowing—

A quickening that comes from this depth of inwardness, not only has spiritual and ethical effects, it reacts favourably on the mind and body as well. We have all been astonished and bewildered at that great modern, practical, rational, mystic Kagawa; half blind, with one lung eaten away and the other half gone, a man who, by all the tests of ordinary medical science, should be in his grave, yet, with a light in his eye, a note of victory in his voice and an indomitable will, giving himself to superhuman efforts year after year. He gives the secret of it all in one of his books. To paraphrase his words; when I will, it is not I that will, but Universal Will, causing me to will. When I love, it is not I that love but Universal Love causing me to love. Here, then, is our call to the Church. If in our private devotions and public wrahip we can sound these depths and draw from these hidden springs then our Church will go forward triumphantly. Things may crumble in the world outside, but in the inner kingdom of the mind and heart there will be peace unspeakable, a poise unshakeable and a power irresistible.

Remembrance Day 1940

"IF YE BREAK FAITH—
WE SHALL NOT SLEEP!"

Over the crimsoned field where poppies blow,
A grey mist hovers like a changing wraith;
And voices bring a cry from out the mist;
"We sleep not, Comrades, do ye keep the faith?"

They gave their lives to make a better world,
Safe for the old, the helpless, and the young—
Safe for that wider brotherhood of man;
What of that victory so dearly wrung?

What is this foe with whom we keep the quarrel?
What is this conflict that we must suppress?
What but the idol in the market place—
The symbol of a nation's selfishness!

AN APPRECIATION

The members of the Strathmore Section of the 23rd Battery wish to express their gratitude to all those who contributed towards the financial success of their Hallowe'en Dance. They would also like to acquaint the public with the fact that the moneys so obtained will be devoted entirely to defraying the costs of training facilities.

THE ACTUAL COST—

The bride of the struggling young writer was quite the belle of the evening, and several of his old friends came up to congratulate him.

She's charming— the most beautiful woman in the room, enthused one.

And her gown is a positive poem.

Not a poem, old man replied the author sadly. Sixteen poems, three short stories and seven articles.

VERY INTERESTING CONVENTION, ALBERTA TEACHERS.

An attendance approximately 95 per cent of the teachers gathered for the various sessions in Convention held in the Palliser last week.

Mr W. I. McKenzie and Mr Roy Eyres presided over the High and Public School sections respectively, each proving himself a very able chairman.

The addresses by Dr Lane and Dr Rosencrance were very greatly enjoyed by everyone present.

Dr Lane's addresses were filled with exceptionally witty, but telling remarks creating much food for later reflection.

Dr Rosencrance possesses a deep philosphical insight into the entire problem of Education.

In the Wheatland Division of Public Schools with which we are most closely associated a Permanent Consulting Committee was appointed to discuss from time to time matters of interest relative to the administration of the Wheatland School Division.

Mr M. McLeod, Miss E. Schofield, Miss Mildred Marcum, Messrs Roy Eyres and Norman Ellis comprise the Committee.

Arrangements are to be made for an exchange among the schhools of reference books for pupils.

Mr McLeod complimented the staff of Wheatland Teachers in the increase of approximately 5 per cent in the A Standing and a decrease of 7 per cent in the D's or failures in the Wheatland S. D. This is a gratifying improvement.

School sports were left to the local A. T. A. groups but there is a general feeling that each school should take part in some sports.

Mr Morrell, Principal of Irricana reported successful use of a Moving Picture Machine among the schools of Kathryn and Irricana area. This is the first time such facilities have been offered rural schools.

Officers elected—

Wheatland School Division No. 4—
President— S. H. Crowther, Strathmore.
Vice-President— F. Morrell, Kathryn.
Sec.-Treas.— R. Eyres, Akenstad.

UNITED CHURCH PEOPLE !

Kindly cut out of this issue the Message of the Moderator and pin to the wall of your home.

Canadians Rejoice At President Roosevelt's Re-Election

::o::

The Canadian People felt an interest in the Presidential election, just second to that of their own Dominion electeion of last March.

With the tradition of the Third Term paled into insignificance in comparison with the stronger fitness of President Roosevelt for the very onerous position particularly at this crucial time.

Churchill and Roosevelt are the strong men required to lead large nations in this time of stress.

Three Million People

The Future of the West!

By RICHARD J. NEEDHAM
A Herald Staff Writer

Editor's Note— There is so much of practical value in this article, we feel it is of vital importance and are glad to re-print in the columns of The Standard.

There Never Was A Plan—

The highway from Calgary to Brooks is a fair enough highway, as gravel highways go, but that isn't very much of a recommendation. I travelled along it this week, with plenty of bumps and plenty of dust. Yet this is the Trans-Canada highway, the great road link of the three western provinces.

Going along, I was struck (as always) by the tremendous sweep of the land, by the sense of richness and power which it conveyed. Yet to see the towns and villages which line the road, to see the farm homes (so many of them look forlorn, temporary insecure), you get an impression of aimlessness and bewilderment, a civilization which, like Topsy, "just growed". There never was a plan, here in the West — just a wild scramble of getting on the land, getting into wheat. (Many people had a third and final objective— getting enough money and getting out). The story of the West is a story of hit-and-miss.

Up until 1930, there was a lot of hit; after that, there was a lot of miss. We should not, for one minute forget the magnificent achievement of the West. We have a tradition of heroic energy scarcely matched in history. But where are we today?

There is a deep under-current of uncertainity in the West. Even the people who love the West the most, who wouldn't live anywhere else on a bet, wonder what will become of the 3,000,000 people who inhabit the three prairie provinces. Straight wheat does not seem to be the answer.

We Can't Be Micawbers—

We probably have to make something turn up. That process is known as "planning" and it is the one thing the West needs today, more than anything else.

Therenever was a plan. No plan was needed, those first 25 or 30 years. But things have changed; we no longer have the assurance that the world wants every bushel of wheat Western Canada can grow. And since Western Canada is largely geared to wheat, we shall haveto switch the machinery around.

Must Start Planning Now—

We are not short of planners. We have men in this country who are experts on every phase of western life— economists, soil experts, experts on climate and livestock, and a thousand other things. They have been accumulating knowledge about the West for a long time. We have got to co-ordinate that knowledge and put it to work. We have got to lay down a great plan for Western Canada, and push that plan through. It will mean a lot of changes— abandoning great areas of the West perhaps, increasing irrigation acreage, shifting population around, cutting down on wheat acreage, going in for other crops. A start has been made under the PFRA. But that is only a part of the picture.

We live here— 3,000,000 people. We are going to keep on living here. But we can't live on hope; we can't live on speculation. Sooner or later, we have got to rebuild the new West on the debris of the old. It is better to do it now, of our own free will and accord than to have it forced upon us by an economic collapse.

Nightingale

On October 25th a Hallowe'en party was held at Valley Gardens school. The children enjoyed games and contests suitable to the occasion. A ghost story related by Mr Trimble when the lights had been lowered, gave the guests of the evening a thrill. Refreshments were served and candy and apples passed around, and during the evening the school pupils sang several songs. The teacher and pupils went to a good deal of trouble to arrange the party and it is a pity that, owing to threshing operations, there was such a small attendance. However we hope that future events will be better patronized as the success of a school largely depends upon the interest of the parents in the community.

A special meeting of the W. I. was held at the home of Mrs A. A. Farr on Thursday, October 24th. Those who were able to be present report a very pleasant afternoon.

The regular meeting of the W. I. was held at the home of Mrs Morton on Thursday, October 31st with 11 members and four visitors present. Arrangements were made for the dancee which is to be held on Friday, November 22nd. Tickets on the Dresden Plate quilt may be obtained from the members. This quilt will be on display in Strathmore and is a particularly pleasing specimen of this brand of handicrafts. A second entry for the Victory Wheel was made up. Mrs W. Mercer gave a reading of one of Pauline Johnston's poems during the afternoon. Delicious refreshments were dispensed by the hostess, assisted by several members. The members will meet again on Thursday next at the home of Mrs Arthur Kimmett, this will be a quilting bee.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Kimmett are receiving congratulations this week on he occasion of heir 25th wedding anniversary. The heartiest congratulations go to this popular couple who have done so much to promote sports for the young people of Nightingale. The success of many of our dances is also due to their combined interest and hearty co-operation.

Please watch for notices of a card party which it is hoped will be held in Valley aGrdens' School on Friday evening, November 15th. This event will be in aid of the Red Cross and the hearty support of all in the district is requested.

Mr and Mrs Allan Trimble attended the Teachers' Convention in Calgary last week.

BRACKEN OF MANITOBA FORMS UNION CABINET

Premier Bracken Monday, November 4th announced his new coalition cabinet to form Canada's first union administration of the war.

Included are one C.C.F., one Social Crediter, two Conservatives. The Union Cabinet will include 9 ministers. The men appointed were sworn in Monday afternoon. The life of the new regime may be short unless the voter passes approval at the provincial election, which is slated for early 1941.

M. J. COLDWELL, NEW LEADER C. C. F.

Ill health and differences with the majority of his colleagues upon war issues have led J. S. Woodsworth, after a long career of disinterested and self sacraficing service of the common people of Canada, to resign from the leadership of the political movement which he has led since its formation.

There is not a man in Canada who knows him — even the bitterest of political opponents — who does not know that Mr Woodsworth is a great and good Canadian, whose interest in political affairs has always been free from any sort of self seeking; that it is based upon a burning passion for social justice. We wish him restored health, and many more years of service to Canada and the world.

— Western Farm Leader.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

By
Dr. K. W. Neatby
Director, Agricultural Department
North-West Line Elevators Association

The discolouration on the germ end of wheat grains, commonly called "black point" or "black tip," is unusually common in this year's crop. The term "kernel smudge" has been adopted by plant pathologists for this disease to avoid confusion with a less conspicuous and less common disease which they call black point. Kernel smudge is a fungous disease, and may be caused by at least two different fungi. One of them (Helminthosporium sativum) is a dangerous parasite, being a very common cause of seedling blight and root-rot of wheat. Incidentally, it is capable of attacking roots, leaves and grains of barley.

The fungi which cause kernel smudge are probably present in all wheat fields in western Canada, and the air contains an abundance of spores, especially in late summer and in the fall. Outbreaks of the disease such as that which occurred this year must, therefore, be due largely to favourable weather conditions. It appears that the new rust résistant varieties are more susceptible than were the old standard varieties such as Marquis.

There is, at present, no way of controlling or preventing kernel smudge. Diseased seed may produce a crop free from kernel smudge, and the crop produced from disease-free seed may contain many discoloured kernels. Since, however, one of the fungi involved may cause seedling blight, if "smudged" grain is used for seed it should be treated with an organic mercury dust.

Dr. F. J. Greaney, Associate Plant Pathologist at the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory, has consented to prepare a more complete discussion of this problem for publication in the next issue of the now well known, semi-annual "Seedtime and Harvest."

COURAGE OF LONDONERS
3615 7a S. W., Calgary,
26th Oct., 1940

The Editor,
Dear Sir—

I have seen several letters in print recently from England where the news of courage of the people has brought a heartening sense to this continent. I think you might be interested in the news that has come from my friends and family in England.

Fy sister in London writes that she has twice had her house on fire from incendiary bombs. By quick action of themselves and the neighbors, they were able to bring the fires under control. The roof has a hole in it; the carpets are rufned; the furniture damaged; but she says "we are still going to stay, so long as the house stands."

From friends, in whose home they practise a modern version of the old-time family prayers, comes the following letter—

"Our charlady came in white-faced and shaken after the first nights heavy bombing. All her memories of air raids in the last war had been revived by the bombs which shook the public shelter where she spent the night. After a cup of tea and a chat, we all listened to God together. Later the charlady said "Thank God for keeping us safe last night. I can face it tonight with Him. Couldn't the children in the shelter be moved into an inner room, under another part of the building, away from teh noise of the grown-ups." The news next morning reported bombs had fallen in her area, but when she arrived at work she was radiant and unafraid. The children had been moved, and two hours after a direct hit had destroyed part of the building above the shelter. In their safe room the children had slept peacefully; in the shelter she had been able to calm an hysterical girl, and within ten minutes the whole room was quiet. Since then, bombs have often fallen close by, but she finds she can rest confidently and be a source of strength to all."

Yours sincerely,
Jean Duncan.

EDUCATION WEEK

IN THIS CHANGING WORLD there is no institution or function of modern society that is undergoing more direct and far-reaching changes, than are the modern methods of Teaching and revised Curricula. That some of these changes are long overdue Educationists agree; about the permanent value of others there is some difference of opinion, among those who are giving their most earnest thought to the betterment of the Educational System.

Many parents and citizens are only slightly aware of the vast change in methods between that of their own school days and those of the present under which their children are being developed.

They send their children to school from 9 to 4 and there their interest and co-operation ends. This is not as it should be.

The conscientious and progressive Teacher fills such a important part in the development of the child's moral, intellectual, and citizenship or social development, that he would welcome the interested and sympathetic understanding and co-operation of the parents.

The School Environment and Teacher Influence plays such a vastly important part in the character building of the child in some cases indeed, surpassing that of the home that all interested in youth and the development of our country, should take an alert and active interest in the Teacher and the Institutions in which his child spends so large a part of the formative years of his life. The teacher is keenly anxious to "put over" his interest in your child. It is for this reason Education Week is being held throughout the North American Continent next week.

Do not fail to attend one or more of these meetings. It is a duty you owe the rising generation.

ALONG THE BURMA ROAD
Christian Science Monitor

THE BURMA ROAD runs round the world. In opening it to permit aid to reach China the British open new roads for aid to themselves and all peoples standing against aggression or only hoping for deliverance from tyranny. The support of national independence which is represented in the opening of the Burma Road is today one with support of individual freedom.

Moreover, it is self support. Americans, thousands of miles from Burma or from Europe, yet can sense that their own rights and interests are well served by Britain's action. They are aware that their Government opposed the closing of the Burma Road three months ago. They are aware that the opening of this chief supply channel to China by the British does not imply a closer understanding between Britain and the United States.

This is not surprising. When Britain closed the Road it was on condition that Japan should compose its 'differences' with China and aid stability in the Far East and therefore in the world. Japan's contribution to this hope meanwhile has been further aggression in Asia and outright alliance with European adventurers who threaten not only the order of Europe but that of the Western Hemisphere. Even Americans who had little interest in the Far East today see Japanese aggresion there as part of that larger program of violence which knows no limit by land or sea.

Britain has opned the Burma Road, but Americans have a responsibility in helping to keep it open. It is a responsibility for their own interests and for the interests of peoples all along that Burma Road where freedom and the right of the weak to exist beside the strong is still cherished.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT NOW IN SESSION

Way To Allay Suspicion—

THE LETHBRIDGE Herald, whose president and managing director is Hon. W. A. Buchanan, one of the independent and enlightened members on the Liberal side of the Senate, has taken a sound line in connection with allegations about the Government's war effort. "The only way to allay the suspicion thus bred in the minds of the people," says the Herald, "is to call Parliament together, where the people's representatives can make their charges and where the responsible Cabinet Ministers can make their answers. That will clear the air."

The Herald contends that the war effort has moved forward so rapidly since last spring that the people have had difficulty in keeping themselves informed about every phase of it. Therefore, the facts should be brought out in Parliament. What is needed is not party political propaganda designed to promote the fortunes of the party in power, but information that will reassure the people that the war administration is efficient.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

Edmonton, November 7— Death of Hon. D. B. Mullen, Minister of Agriculture cast a gloom over the legislative buildings Monday. Always an energetic and democratic executive, his well known figure will be missed by his associates. Burial services were attended by large numbers of civil servants as well as his colleagues of the government. Friends and political opponents alike paid tribute to his finde handling of the agriculture portfolio since his appointment in 1937 to one of the most important ministeries in the government. All praised the policies of "improvement" in grain and livestock which he had furthered during his term of office.

Official opening of the new Empire Air Training elementary flying School in Edmonton will take place November 11th, buildings having been completed this week. Still under construction is the new aircraft repair and assembly building, which will be the largest of its kind in the West. Attending the opening of the new flying school will be civic and chamber of commerece officials.

The R. C. A. F. is still seeking radio operators for enlistment as signal officers or mechanics, according to Flying Officer W. M. Thomson, M. C., D. F. C., Edmonton recruiting officer. The age limit is 45 years. Officer applicants must have at least Grade 12 education.

Work of the Canadian Legion auxiliary war services was outlined to members of an Edmonton service club this week by Donald Cameron, director of educational services for Alberta. So long as the war continues, said Mr Cameron, the organization will continue to offer any soldier, sailor or airman opportunities to complete high school training in order to qualify for higher posts.

Farm youths are offered free training in farm mechanics by the youth training organization, it was announced this week by W. J. Elliott of the agriculture department. Young men between 16 and 30 may enroll at Nanton and Stettler, training November 12 to December 18; Bassano and Viking, training January 6 to February 13; Hanna and Provost, training February 17 to arch 29. The new training is offered following insistent demand, and main divisions will be gas tractors and diesel engines, farm machinery blacksmithing, carpentry, soils and crops. A small fee is the only one charged, this for wood and iron used.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

(By H. G. L. Strange)
Director— The Crop Testing Plan

Members of teh anadian Seed Growers Association have been able to make an extra special contribution towards Canada's war effort.

The rop Testing Plan last year was able to develop a market in the United States for fairly large quantities of Registered cereal seeds produced by prairie members of the Association. The sale of these seeds, and of the Canadian make sacks in which they are contained, to farmers in the United States, brought to Canada a goodly quantity of American dollars. These dollars in turn were available to the Canadian Government to buy more munitions made in the United States. (These seed sales to the United States besides being of value in a military sense, also removed part of the seed surplus form the West, and so tended of course, to raise the price of the remainder.)

Old established seed houses, both East and West, which are pressing Canadian seeds— alfalfa, clover, timothy, grasses and other kinds, on the American market, are rendering the same valuable extra service.

Other members of the Canadian Seed Growers Association, who are producing the newly developed Registered vegetable seeds, and who in consequence are obviating the necessity of importing such large quantities of these stocks from the United States, are also making a valuable contribution to our war effort by saving American exchange.

LIONS

were ear-marked for a town (and community) swimming pool. When the war developed, it was thought advisable to not ask the people for local improvement when the nation needed help so the swimming pool project was postponed and the funds $224.00 invested in war certificates, to be redeemed at a future date and be used for the pool. Our last Lions Day proceeds had been donated to the Ambulance Fund but when an oversubscription occurred it was recommended to the committee that any surplus should go to the local Red Cross. This was done, and a total of $52.80 went to the Red Cross and $7.00 to the Ambulance Fund. Previous to this the Lions had donated $10.00 to the Red Cross. Lion A. D. Shrimpton was head of the Ambulance Fund and Lion Art Lambert was secretary treasurer. The Lions not only were behind this project but a number have canvassed in the past for the Red Cross and are at present taking part in the second canvas.

Under the leadership of Lion Leonard Van Tighem the Lions are sponsoring the sale of war stamps and certificates. House to house sales and victory wheels have resulted in $695 in stamps for the Dominion Govt.

Add these totals up and we see the Lions have raised $1,006.00 for patriotic purposes in less than two years. That is over $500.00 a year and the Lions can truly say that they are following the Lion's motto, based on the five letters, 'L' Liberty; 'I' Intelligence; 'O', 'N', and 'S' Our Nation's Safety.

The Lions Club are holding a series of bridge parties in Harmer's Hall at 8 p.m. on Wednesday evenings, (omiting the Wednesday before the monthly Red Cross Bridge). Cash prizes of a percentage of the net proceeds will be given each night and lso a percentage put away for grand prizes at the end of the series. Everyone is invited to come and help out this truly Patriotic Club.

IN MEMORIAM

WAGSTAFF— In loving memory of our Dear Son and Brother, who passed away November 9th, 1935.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they'll wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
I think of him in Silence,
His name I oft recall,
But there's nothing left to answer
But his picture on the wall.
Just when his life was brightest,
Just when his hopes were best,
God called him from among us,
To a home of eternal rest.
Ever remembered by his Mother,
Dad and family.

Miss Lois Schulte returned from Montreal last Saturday morning for a short rest at home. Lois not having been in good health.

BUTTER PRICES RISING SHORTAGE PREDICTED

In connection with the current upward swing in butter prices, Mr W. D. King, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry and chairman of the Alberta Price Spreads Board has released the following extracts from a communication signed by F. J. Reynolds, general manager of the Edmonton City Dairy, dated October 24th, 1940.

"The Vancouver market may now be quoted at 28 12c to 28 3-4c F O B Vancouver for first grade, giving an Edmonton value for bulk butter of 26 1-2c to 26 3-4c.

"Yesterday we raised butterfat to a basis of 25c for special grade, with other creameries paying 24c to 26c. Effective October 24th Edmonton creameries are advancing quotations on print butter at wholesale to 29c for first grade.

"Albert operators are merely following the general market trend in Canada, and it is difficult to see just what can be done in view of the fact that all statistics indicate we are rapidly approaching a short positi n on butter in the whole of Canada.

"We think it only fair to point out that the present prices of print butter are exactly the same as they were one year ago, and cream prices are 1c a pound higher."

Now that your visits to Vancouver are likely to be on business, may we suggest you use the centrally located Hotel Grosvenor. Not only economical but decidedly efficient for getting around downtown Vancouver. The Hotel itself carries the atmosphere of an old country inn — great lounge with open fireplace — the owner personally supervising all departments. Excellent dining service, display rooms, writing rooms. Rates from $1.50 $2.00 and up, with and without bath.
